

Establish a data flow model

Different jurisdictions and health regions across Canada have different data flow models.

You will need to work with your ministry or regional health authority to establish the process for data flow from your organization to CIHI.

It is important that your organization communicates its process to CIHI. Knowing your data flow model allows CIHI to establish a system to help you submit your data and interpret the results.

Examples of data flow models

